OUTLINES.

At Durham yesterday Louis Holloway, a young white man met a horrible death, and a negro was terribly injured by the explosion of a thousand-gallon gasolene tank.——On the Great Northern Railroad, thirty-five miles east of Spokane, late Monday afternoon, a passenger train plunged over a 70-foot precipice into a lake, seven persons losing their lives and many being injured.——Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany, said yesterday that it was possible that Tammany may support Wm. Randolph Hearst for Governor of New York. ——At the International Parliamentary Conference in London yesterday the delegates were aroused to enthusiasm by the elequence of Wm. J. Bryan, who advocated enlargement of the scope of arbitration to prevent war; a French delegate declared that the powers would be compelled by either bankruptcy or revolution to reduce their military and naval establishments.——The District Attorney's office in New York has secured a mysterious woman witness against Harry Thaw; his chorus girl wife denies as a cruel canard that she is seeking a divorce.——More arrests of a sensational character are promised in connection with the Hartje divorce case at Pittsburg.——With the search still in progress eleven dead bodies have been recovered from the ruins of a building which collapsed at Framington, Mass., on Monday.——New York Markets: Money on call easy, 2 points higher, closing bid and offered at 2 per cent.; spot cotton quiet, 10.90; flour steady; wheat firm, No. 2 red 82 7-8 elevator; corn firm, No. 2 57 3-8 elevator; oats steady; turpentine and rosin steady.

"Never go into politics, young man," says Senator Platt of New York. If Platt means for us to take him as a horrible example, the advice is good.

It is safe to say that nobody in Russia will try to pass off as Gen. Trepoff and will not ape him in the shape of his whiskers or the cut of his hair.

According to Republican law the management of a corporation is responsible for the debts it contracts for the corporation, but the management is not responsible for the crime it commits for the corporation.

Kathleen Kavanaugh, the poetess, has written a poem entitled "Ambition," and in the first line she says: "Go climb the winding steps of fame." Politicians should take notice that this doesn't warrant them in gaining fame by crooked ways and then trying to pass them off as mere "winding stairs."

The organized workingmen who are going into politics will please take notice that Roosevelt held his ear to the ground and heard them getting into the procession. Forthwith he issued that eight-hour order which he should have enforced all along and not waited till an election was approaching.

"Who is Paul Morton?" asks a contemporary. Strikes us he is Roosevelt's cabinet member who pleaded guilty, but was exonerated by the President who convinced him that it was Morton's inanimate railroad corporation that was the guilty wretch and ought to go to jail for allowing rebates that were sanctioned by Morton and its other officers.

Asama is a volcano and a young Japanese who wished to commit suicide leaped into its crater, leaving behind this note: "Suffering a feeling of despair impels me to throw myself into the crater of vehement Asama, thus winning a splendid death, and ascending the mountain's smoke to a lofty life above the sky." We are not prepared to dispute that this Jap was a young man of elevated thought.

Roosevelt is supposed to be the President of the Republicans, of the Democrats, of the Populists, of the Socialists, and of the straddlers. How do they like to see their President rubbing their party fur the wrong way by monkeying in partisan politics and laying political wires and setting traps to beat them out in their Congressional elections.

THE SUPERIOR COURT

JUDGE E. B. JONES PRESIDING

New Hanover Superior Court, Judge E. B. Jones, of Winston, presiding, convened at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning and will be in session two weeks for the trial of criminal cases unless the business of the term is sooner disposed of. The latter seems more than probable, for Judge Jones on the very opening day established a record for the rapid dispatch of business, a large number of rather important cases having been disposed of already besides the organization for the term and the many other preliminaries that usually consume much time. The Shockley case was set for yesterday, but necessarily it could not be taken up owing to the delay of one day in convening the session. The witnesses were recognized for their appearance on Thursday of this week at which time it is supposed that the case will be called, arrangements will be made for a special venire and the hearing set down probably for Monday of the second week.

The charge of Judge Jones to the grand jury when it was empanelled yesterday was regarded as a very strong one, an especial feature of it being an exposition of the law as it relates to dealing in futures. Judge Jones said that the man dealing in futures was equally guilty of gambling with the negro pickaninnie who hides in a back alley and shoots craps, and should be even more severely dealt with. The Judge told the jury that it had a full two weeks and he hoped that they would look especially into this matter. Various other branches of the criminal law were also taken up and dealt with by Judge Jones straight from the shoulder.

Upon the convening of the court the sheriff returned as jurors summoned for the week Martin Schnibben, Wm. A. Davis, S. H. Fishblate, N. E. aGllagher, T. J. Pae, Jno. G. Tooley, T. S. McManus, R. A. Biddle, B. Solomon, A. H. Creasy, W. G. Womble, N. B. Futrell, F. E. Hashagen, W. P. Toomer, S. A. Matthews, C. C. Brown, Ashford McNorton, J. H. Curtis, W. S. Bernard, W. Catlett, J. H. Rulfs, Jr., W. O. Page, H. B. Shepard.

The following were not found: Jas. C. Craft, Wright Blake, L. L. Bland, J. P. Herring, M. Braddy, Stewart L. Bowen, A. M. Turch, H. B. Martin, Jno. D. Calder, John J. Blair and W. L. Mercer.

The following were excused by His Honor: B. Solomon, F. E. Hashagen and H. B. Shepard.

The following were drawn as grand jurors and were enpanelled with Col. W. J. Woodward foreman and Capt. Jas. H. Taylor as bailiff, viz.: A. H. Creasy, S. A. Matthews, W. P. Toomer, Ashford McNorton, W. G. Womble, W. Catlett, W. S. Bernard, T. S. McManus, R. A. Biddle, N. B. Futrell, J. F Rulfs, Jr., N. E. Gallagher, W. J. Woodward, Wm. A. Davis, M. Schnibben, S. H. Fishblate, C. C. Brown and Thos. J. Pae.

The following cases were disposed of:

Wm. Bunting, called and failed; ni si sci fa and capias in three cases.

Peter Vaughan, submitted to carrying a concealed weapon; fined $10 and costs.

Charles Pigford, submitted to carrying concealed weapons; fined $10 and costs.

David Evans, assault with deadly weapon; submitted and sentenced to 90 days to be worked on public roads.

J. E. Wright, assault with deadly weapon; called and failed; capias.

Wm. McLeod, larceny, verdict of guilty by jury; six mouths on roads.

James Jones, judgment absolute to be discharged upon payment of costs and sci fa. In another case for assault with a deadly weapon a capias and continuance was ordered.

James Davis, carrying a concealed weapon; submitted and fined $5 and costs.

Hurley Peterson, larceny, verdict guilty; six years at hard labor in State prison; judgment suspended in five

KILLED AND BURIED

Sensational Story of Murder Near Lake Waccamaw in Columbus County.

PARTIES ARE ALL NEGROES

Mysterious Disappearance of One and Finding of His Body Buried in Neighbor's Barnyard—Officers and One Arrest Made.

News reaches the city of a rather sensational murder among negroes in Columbus county Sunday. Harvey Bryant, a young negro employed at one of the plants of the Standard Turpentine Company in Columbus, and living near Artesia, the settlement of the Carolina Trucking Development Company, three miles beyond Lake Waccamaw, walked out of his house Sunday morning, bare-footed and in his shirt sleeves as if he expected to be away only a short time. He did not return at night, nor the following day and his people became uneasy about him. They made inquiries all around but the only trace of him that could be found was his cap which was seen lying on the porch of Henry Battle, Sr., a well-to-do colored man, living a short distance away.

One of Bryant's family wanted to know of the whereabouts of the missing man, but Battle and his people denied all knowledge of the affair. Bad blood is said to have existed between the missing negro and a son of Battle for some time and the presence of the cap there and the fact that old man Battle would not allow his house to be searched aroused suspicion. Finally the whole neighborhood of negroes became aroused and forcibly they searched the house yesterday morning. Nothing was found but some one remembered that they had seen the son of the old man raking straw in the barnyard on Monday and a search was made there. Buried under two feet of earth back of Battle's barn, the body of the missing negro was found. They unearthed the body only enough to identify it as that of the missing man and the coroner of the county and a deputy sheriff were summoned from Whiteville. Meantime the son of Battle took to the woods and has not been seen since. Upon the arrival of the officers yesterday afternoon the father of the house was arrested and an effort was being made to capture the son who fled.

WEDDED YESTERDAY

Miss Aline Graham the Attractive Young Bride of Mr. Thomas Henry Platt, of New York—Service at 5:30 O'Clock.

In the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and admiring friends at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Bishop, No. 218 Castle street, in a beautiful ceremony performed by the Rev. R. W. Rogue, rector of Saint James' Episcopal parish, Miss Aline Graham, an attractive young woman of this city, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Henry Platt, of New York. The home had been most attractievly decorated with palms, ferns and flowers and thronged with the merry wedding guests, the scene was a very pretty one indeed.

The ceremony took place at an improvised altar in the parlors of the home, the beautiful ring service being used and the bride being given away by her brother, Mr. George A. Bishop. Mr. R. C. Platt, a brother of the groom, accompanied him as best man. There were no other attendants. The bride wore a lovely costume of white lingerie cloth trimmed with Baby Irish lace and was very pretty indeed. The male attendants wore the conventional black.

Following the ceremony a brief informal reception was held and Mr. and Mrs. Platt left on the 6:50 P. M. train for their future home in New York, stopping in Norfolk a few days to visit the groom's brother, Lieut. Wm. P. Platt, United States Navy. The bride's travelling costume was black and white Linzine check silk.

From Norfolk Mr. and Mrs. Platt will take up their residence and will be at home after ten days on Flatbush Avenue, in Brooklyn. The groom is now city travelling salesman for the Dearborne Drug and Chemical Co., of New York, and is held in the highest esteem by that large firm. Mr. Platt was formerly a resident here and has a great number of friends who will congratulate him upon joining the ranks of the Benedicts.

THE LOCAL MILITARY

Naval Reserves Off Last Night; Wilmington Light Infantry Leaves To-day.

SAILORS ON THE COMPTON

Will Proceed at Once to Morehead—W. L. I. in Fine Shape but With Only Bare Percentage of Strength—Special Train.

The commodious and well appointed steamer Compton, of the Wilmington, Southport and Little River Transportation Company, passed down the river at 10 o'clock last night with the Wilmington Division, Naval Reserves, aboard for their annual cruise along the coast with the North Carolina Naval Brigade. The steamer was well stocked with provisions and all other necessaries for a ten-day cruise and the jolly tars are looking forward to a pleasant outing. It was expected to pass immediately out to sea at Southport last night, reaching Morehead City this morning, where the two divisions from Newbern and the Winton division will be taken aboard. Capt. W. A. Sanders, of the owners of the steamer, is aboard with his engineer and firemen, so that the duties of the sailors at first will be merely nominal, and they will have plenty of time to get their sea legs before being assigned to the heavier work of the cruise. Capt. T. M. Morse, of the Brigade, is aboard as navigating officer, and Capt. W. A. Furlong as engineer. Others of the command here and a partial list of the seamen are as follows:

Lieutenant Commanding—H. M. Chase.

Lieutenant Junior Grade—Jno. B. Peschau.

Ensign—W. S. Morris.

Chief Quartermaster—W. Hull Moore.

Chief Electrician—G. T. Williamson.

Chief Gunner's Mate—J. M. Murphy.

Gunner's Mate, second class—D. H. Barrett.

First Coxswain—J. B. O'Sullivan.

Third Coxswain—W. L. Durham.

Seamen—G. B. Futch, G. H. Holmes, E. J. Merritt, J. A. Magette, B. E. Magette, J. W. Taylor, H. H. Sellers, H. Carroll, E. J. Beardsley, H. C. Howard, E. P. Dudley, A. Garrison and R. F. Carr.

HOME FOR CHILDREN

Proposition Enthusiastically Discussed at Armory Meeting Last Night—Committee to Further the Movement—Public Subscriptions.

The mass meeting at the W. L. I. armory last night in furtherance of the movement for a Children's Home on Wrightsville Sound, which has been publicly discussed for several days with no little degree of enthusiasm, was only fairly well attended but was composed of very representative men, includingv physicians, lawyers, merchants, insurance men, ministers and young men from the working classes. Mr. H. W. Malloy was called to the chair and a full and free discusion of the movement was had.

Rev. R. W. Houge, who has been most active in the effort for the proposed Home, addressed the meeting by invitation, giving the plans as originally conceived for the work and emphasizing the great need for such an institution. He was heard with much interest indeed; always earnest, thoroughly alive and master of the subject. Rev. Mr. Hogue was followed by half a dozen others in brief addresses, every one of which heartily commended the movement differing only as to the details of its execution. The testimony of Dr. Joseph Akerman was especially strong as to the primary value, even above medical attention, of a change of air in children's diseases in the Summer. He stated that it was practically impossible to cure the children in hundreds of Wilmington homes on the outskirts of the city without taking the little patients to a different environment.

Dr. C. P. Bolles, Mr. George Rountree Mr. Iredell Meares, Mr. H. McL. Green and others also made strong talks in addition to the ministers present, among them being Rev. Dr. McClure, Rev. Dr. Carmichael, Rev. Dr. Wells, Rev. N. M. Watson and Rev. Mr. Hogue.

The result of the meeting was a

Hotel and Union Depot Facilities Are Considered By Chamber of Commerce.

AT MEETING YESTERDAY

Railroads Should Provide Accommodations For Excursion Travel Instead of Consolidated Company—Matter Referred to Committee.

The commercial and tourist hotel proposition and the matter of Union Station facilities, incidentally providing a place for the thousands of excursionists who visit Wilmington each year, were subjects of special interest considered at a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday morning. It is expected that something tangible will be undertaken by the last named committee at once in view of the fact that rumors are afloat that the Seaboard Air Line is contemplating building a passenger station of its own at its present terminals in this city and for the further reason that efforts are being made to force the Consolidated Company to provide accommodations for the excursionists when it is held clearly to be the business of the railroads entering here to provide these accommodations.

The meeting was called to order by President J. A. Taylor at 11 o'clock, and among those present were Secretary James Kyle, Messrs. I. M. Bear, L. B. Rogers, M. S. Willard, L. B. Rogers, Walker Taylor, Roger Moore, W. A. Dick, Jno. R. Turrentine, W. B. Cooper, W. E. Perdew, C. L. Dickinson, George R. French, C. N. Evans, H. K. Nash, C. C. Covington, William Calder, S. M. Boatwright and Z. W. Whitehead. The president stated that the meeting had been called to receive the report of the special committee appointed on the hotel project, and asked Mr. Dick, the chairman, to address the chamber.

Mr. Dick and members of his committee, composed of Messrs. M. S. Willard, Walker Taylor, I. M. Bear and C. N. Evans, all thought that the price asked for the Moore and Hanby property, at Second and Chestnut streets, was excessive, and Mr. Evans suggested that the Hotel Company be first duly organized and that it advertise for a suitable site for the holstery. Mr. Evans said that the owner of the property from whom the site was purchased for the new Charlotte hotel took 60 per cent. of the price he received in stock in the company and the same plan might be carried out here. It was stated that $500 would have to be deposited to hold the option on the Moore property, and it was left with the committee to arrange or reject this option, or to extend it until January 1st., of the new year, which was desired by some.

Messrs. W. B. Cooper and Z. W. Whitehead said that they had talked with quite a number of people about the new hotel and all favored building it. On motion of Mr. Whitehead, after a rather lengthy discussion, the special committee was continued as a permanent committee on the project and were requested to act in the matter as they may deem best. It seems that very little effort has been made to secure stock in the company, all the endeavor having been to agree on a location for the proposed holstery.

The matter of the Union Station facilities was brought up by Mr. Taylor, who said that he noted that there was talk of the Seaboard's building a depot of its own in this city. He strongly urged that the Chamber of Commerce take the matter up with the railroads and that the Consolidated Company arrange to run its beach cars to the station, thereby affording a place for excursionists going to and from the beach. In a Union Station there would be ample waiting room facilities and accommodations for all excursionists. Mr. Taylor thought it would be unfair to compel the Consolidated Company to provide accommodations for the travel of the railroads. Mr. Calder thought the president was exactly right; the suggestion was an excellent one. He added that the Consolidated Company had provided a fine retreat for its travel at its terminus at the beach and the A. C. L. and S. A. L. should do the same at its terminals here. Upon motion the standing Traffic Committee was instructed to take the matter up at once. The committee is composed of President Taylor and Messrs. C. W. Worth and R. A. Parsley.

The Adams and Sawyer Case.

There was a report in the city yesterday that the Judicial Department in Washington had declined to interfere in the death sentence of Adams and Sawyer, the alleged negro mutineers in jail here. Inquiry of the counsel for the prisoners last night developed the fact that no word had yet been received from Washington in regard to the case. Several days ago the Sheriff received an inquiry as to the conduct of the prisoners, etc., in jail, and this gave rise to a further report that a pardon had been granted. But so far as can be learned nothing has been heard from Washington more than that the case is being considered.

Advertisements to follow reading matter, or to occupy any special place, will be charged extra according to the position desired.

MEANS MILLIONS.

Referring to the fact that it has been demonstrated at the Philadelphia plant that paper can be made economically from cotton stalks after the freight has been paid on the stalks from the South to Philadelphia, it should be noted that the cotton stalks Products Company propose not only to manfacture paper from the stalks but their plans contemplate securing other bi-products such as alcohol, nitrogen, material for gun-cotton and smokeless powder. It is stated that all these bi-products can be secured in paying quantities.

The statement is now made that the processes are beyond the experimental stage, it having been demonstrated especially that all grades of paper, from the best grade of linen to the lowest can be manufactured from cotton stalks. It is reasonable to suppose, therefore, that mills for the use of cotton stalks in that way may become general in the cotton growing States. It is estimated that on an area of land producing a bale of cotton at least one ton of stalks can be gathered. Upon this basis, from 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 tons of raw material could be secured for the production of paper, which would increase the value of the South's cotton crop nearly $10,000,000.

The Baltimore Manufacturer's Record predicts that the time is not far distant when paper plants equipped with all modern machinery and devices for making paper and the utilization of the other bi-products referred to will be built and placed in operation throughout the cotton-growing States of the South. Our esteemed contemporary also says that the heretofore wasted cotton stalks will not only furnish necessary supplies to meet all home demands, but also permit of the export of pulp or finished products to foreign ccuntries. At the present time there is approximately $287,000,000 invested in paper mills in the United States, with but few plants located in the South. The bulk of the material going into the manufacture of paper at the present time is spruce pine, which is annually becoming more expensive on account of the depletion of the forests and the high prices which timber commands in the markets for other uses. The utilization of a waste product such as the cotton stalk, manufactured into commercial paper, will be a boon of inestimable value to the whole country.

The practical effect of this new invention will be to increase the present value of the South's cotton crop nearly $100,000,0000 annually.

The nearest paper mill to Wilmington is at Hartsville, S. C., where a good quality of wood pulp paper is being turned out. An extensive paper plant is soon to be installed at Roanoke Rapids, near Weldon, N. C. We are all the time diversifying industry in the South and the field is a wide one for the capitalist.

THIS FALL'S ELECTION AND 1908.

The Portland Oregonian is one of the Republican newspapers which sees the importance of the bearing of this this Fall's Congressional election upon the Presidential campaign in 1908. The Oregonian says.

"If the Democrats shall this year secure a majority of the House in the Sixtieth Congress, the first great step to election of a Democratic President in 1908 will have been taken. The political complexion of the House elected in the off year has come to be almost a certain indication of victory for the dominant party in the Presidential election two years later."

President Roosevelt, Uncle Joe and others in their class also see the importance of the bearing of the Congressional election upon the fight for President two years from now. They are hob-nobbing at the President's Summer home, arranging for the campaign this Fall, and compiling the arguments for the campaigners who are to pull the wool over the eyes of the people. This shows that others beside the Oregonian thought the election this Fall might have something to do with the election of a President two yeas from now.

Lest we forget, did you notice that statement that the campaign book agreed upon by Roosevelt and his accomplices at Oyster Bay is to be a "stand pat' document? It was also stated that the thing is entirely to the President's liking. He is as big a stand-patter as any of them when they give him to understand what they want him to stand for.

NEW MEAT INSPECTION LAW.

According to Secretary Wilson, of the Agricultural Department, government inspection is not all that is necessary to insure healthy and clean food products. Discussing the new meat inspection law passed at the recent session of Congress, the Secretary says there is considerable misapprehension regarding its scope. It does not, he said, apply to any but slaughtering and meat packing houses doing an inter-State business.

"If the people of this country," said the Secretary, "want to be assured that the meat that goes into their homes from these establishments doing a purely State and local business is clean and wholesome, they should enter upon a crusade for a general cleaning up. I am powerless, myself, to act. Quite recently I went though some of these houses not embraced within the Federal law and found them in a nasty, filthy condition and in some cases using diseased animals. It is my one regret that the Federal law does not reach them, but I earnestly hope the State and city officials will look after them as vigorously as we propose to look after the others.'

DIFFERENT NAMES FOR WALL STREETERS.

Col. Tom Lawson uses such a polite phrase as "frenzied financiers" when he refers to the Wall Street sharks. Col. Wm. J. Bryan refers to them as "predatory wealth," but Maxim Gorky, the Russian novelist, expressed his idea of it as "this horrible worship the Golden Devil." Gorky wrote scathingly of his views of the American metropolis and terribly arraigned it for its beastly craving for money. He wrote bitterly and bitingly of the methods of those engaged in the mad and unscrupulous rush for wealth and denounced Americans as shams. However, it must be remembered that Maxim was mad because Americans thought it was something awful for him to leave his wife and children in Russia and instead bring an actress with him to see the sights in America. It is curious how the Maxim Gorky class get it in their heads that they are more holy than the Wall Streeters who do the "Golden Devil" stunt.

—When Senator Platt advised young men to let politics alone, he very considerately refrained from pointing to President Roosevelt as a terrible example of what it leads to.—Washington Post.

—A cry has arisen in Atlanta for Jerome and Folk as the next Democratic candidates for President and Vice President. If the ticket were reversed much might be said for it.—Philadelphia Record.

—Col. John S. Harper, now living in retirement at Leroy, Ill., is credited with having started no less than 156 newspapers. Great Caesar! but there's a man that's got a lot to answer for!—Philadelphia Press.

—More or less astonishment is expressed over the administration's determination to enforce the Eight-Hour law. There is almost always a sensation in this country when somebody strictly enforces a law.—New York World.

—Excepting only the famous wreck at Bostian's bridge, near Statesville, some fifteen years or more ago, when more than a score of people were killed and many injured, the collision near Hamlet Sunday night was in its results the worst in the history of the State.—Charlotte Observer.

TWINKLINGS.

—Knicker—Did that graduate ask you if her hat was on straight? Bocker—Yes; it was the only thing on earth she didn't know.—New York Sun.

—Charley (desparingly)—I fear I shall never win her love. Harry (encouragingly)—Nonsense! man. Lots of other fellows have. Why shouldn't you?—American Spectator.

—"In driving," asked the nice young thing, "do you keep to the left or right?" "If it's an auto," replied Sillicus, "you keep in the scenter."—Boston Transcript.

—First Suburbanite—Did you ever go on one of those Cooks tours? Second Suburbanite—Oh, yes; I've visited every intelligence office from one end of the city to the other.—Woman's Home Companion.

—Nell—Last night was the happiest in my life. It brought me one round of pleasure. Bell—What do you consider one round of pleasure? Nell—An engagement ring—Tit Bits.

—Uncle Jim—Yais, chile, I reckon I'se been around most everywhar. Little Rastus—Has yo evah been in heaben, Uncle Jim? Uncle Jim—Yais, chile; twice; de day I got married and de day 4—11—44 done come out.—Puck.

—"You have to refuse a good many girls jobs during the course of a day." "Yes," said the head of the firm. "And yet they always go out smiling. How do they manage it?" "I tell 'em we think it inadvisable to employ extraordinarily beautiful girls."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

—"The man who wins my admiration," said the serious girl, "must be one who can stand firm in his convictions in the face of ridicule, opposition and personal danger." "I see," said Miss Cayenne. "Your ideal is a baseball umpire."—Washington Star.

RUSSELL SAGE DIES SUDDENLY.

Great Financier Collapsed on Sunday From Heart Failure.

New York, July 23.—Russell Sage died suddenly yesterday at his country home, "Cedarcroft," at Lawrence, L. I. The immediate cause of death was heart failure, resulting from a complication of diseases incident to old age. The veteran financier would have celebrated his eighty-seventh birthday on August 4. Mr. Sage had been in exceptionally good health since his arrival at his Summer home about six weeks ago. At noon yesterday he was seized with a sinking spell and collapsed, falling into unconsciousness about two hours before his death, which occurred at 4:30 o'clock.

Col. J. J. Slocum and Charles Osborne, brother-in-law and confidential manager of the late Russell Sage, and co-executors of his estate, with Mrs. Sage, were in conference with the legal representatives of the Sage estate today. Mr. Sage's will probably will be probated shortly after the funeral. A former business associate of Mr. Sage, expressed the opinion that the estate would contain many surprises. Counsel for the estate of Russell Sage to-day applied to Surrogate Thomas for permission to carry on Mr. Sage's business pending the admission of the will to probate. The Surrogate said he would sign the order later.

Kidney ills seize young and old alike—
Quickly come and little warning give.
Children suffer in their early years—
Can't control the kidney secretions.
Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.
Women worry, can't do daily work.
Robust men have lame and aching backs.
Old folks, weak, rheumatic, lame.
Endure distressing urinary ills.
The cure for man, for woman, or for child.
Is to cure the cause—the kidneys.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys—
Wilmington testimony guarantees every box.

J. T. Ebert, of 515 South Sixth St., mattress maker, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills in my family. My little girl complained of severe pains in the small of her back, and the kidney secretions were dark and full of brick-dust sediment. We were very much worried about her and when I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, I went up to R. R. Bellamy's drug store and got a box and gave them to her. Since using them she had improved wonderfully and is a different child. Her kidney secretions cleared up, she does not complain of her back, and, in fact, Doan's Kidney Pills gave her new life. We are very much pleased with them and you can use my name and welcome."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Millburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Raleigh News and Observer, July 24: There were no trains over the Raleigh and Southport road yesterday, owing to the washing away of the bridge over Little River. The bridge was a wooden structure put up temporarily in order that trains might get to Fayetteville.

—Raleigh News and Observer: The picked men sent from America and the Colonies are shaking England from her settled habit. James Horner Winston, Cecil Rhodes scholar from North Carolina, recently won at Oxford the $150 prize awarded for standing the best examination upon law in Christ Church College at the University.

—Louisburg Special, July 23: The friends of Judge C. M. Cooke were astounded to learn that a certain State weekly had published a report to the effect that he contemplated resigning his office as judge owing to ill health. The writer learns from an authoritative source that the report is utterly untrue. He has at no time ever thought of resigning.

—The New Bern Banking and Trust Company was organized on Monday at New Bern with $100,000 capital stock paid in, and elected the following directors: James B. Blades, W. fenden, J. W. Stewart, C. E. Foy, F. B. Blades, J. S. Basnight, J. J. Wol- W. Hughes, L. H. Cutler, Jr., and C. D. Dradham. The directors will meet later and elect officers. The bank expects to open for business by September 1st.

—Wilson Special, July 23: This morning Mayor Herring heard a case in which a fellow named John Henry Ruffin, cut Mr. J. L. Moody on the arm and also knocked Mrs. Moody down, simply because Ruffin was following and cursing Lattimore Whitley,, threatening to cut him with a knife, and Mr. Moody told him to get from in front of his store, go home and behave himself. Whittley and Ruffin were bound over to court in the sum of $50 each.

—Raleigh News and Observer, July 24: Judge Webb has fixed Monday, August 27th, at Goldsboro, as the time to hear the application for the mandamus to compel the Board of Aldermen of Raleigh to order an election on the question of prohibition. The papers were prepared last week by Judge Montgomery while Col. Harris was engaged in the Norris trial, and they will be served this week. Rev. S. J. Betts, who got up the petition, has retained Judge Montgomery and Col. Harris.

—That Cabarrus county is rich in gold is proven by the fact that a citizen of No. 8 ownership picked up a nugget the other day that is worth a bale of cotton. Mr. Neal Ross was walking across his field with his son, when the lad discovered something bright peeping from the ground. The bright object proved to be a nugget of gold and is worth more than $50. The recent rains had brought the gold to the surface and there it was readily discovered.

—Concerning the horrible railroad wreck near Hamlet Sunday evening, last, a correspondent at Hamlet writes: Judge W. B. Council, of Hickory, who was on the wrecked passenger train, and Conductor J. D. Bowen both proved heroes in the terrible wreck near here Sunday. Judge Council was injured, but despite this, when the wreckage took fire he saved the debris from fire by putting it out with wet sand. Conductor Bowen, though badly hurt, worked until exhausted. Both these men deserve great praise. There were many others who did all they could and people came from neaby to help.

—Moore County News: Mr. John W. McCaskill, of Antler, was in town Friday, and told us of his success with cabbage this year. He put out 5,000 plants early in March on one-half acre of ground. From this patch two families coutaining fourteen people used all the cabbage they needed, and in addition he sold cabbage and kraut to the amount of $150. On these cabbage he used $27 worth of commercial fertilizer, and the cultivation and marketing only cost about $20, which left a net income from one-half acre of little more than $100. Trot out your farmer who can beat this and let us have his name.

—In an inviterview at Elizabeth City on Monday, Mr. Fred L. Merritt, land and industrial agent for the Norfolk and Southern railway, stated that he is engaged at present in negotiations which will, in all probability, bring to the section traversed by the Norfolk and Southern a large number of desirable immigrants. Mr. Merritt said he was already in correspondence with New York parties about the project and as each side seems satisfied with the other's proposition, it is very probable that the colony will be located in the near future. He states that he has personally investigated the class of people who will be induced to come and found them to be industrious and energetic agriculturists with no money but anxious to work.

—Newbern Special, July 23: Dr. James B. Hughes sold to James B. Blades his entire property on South Front street and on Middle street to the Channel. This includes the telegraph office, Hotel Chattawka and about forty other buildings of wood and brick. The consideration was $100,000. The property is in the business section of the town. Mr. Blades expects to improve all the blick structures and replace the wooden ones with brick buildings. On South Front street this property covers one-half block and on Middle street it reaches for two blocks.

—Charlotte Observer, July 24: Sheriff D. R. Julian, of Rowan, received a letter from two Mecklenburg county prisoners yesterday morning. The epistle left Charlotte Sunday night. Jack Dillingham has made a half-waw confession to the writers of the letter. He had declared that he and a white man were in the plot to plan and execute the murder of Mr. Ike Lyrley, his wife and two little chil dren. The negroes, who wrote to the sheriff of Rowan, believe firmly that Jack, Nease, John and Henry and some white man, whose first name he gives as Jim, did the work. Ann effort will be made to learn more. Dillingham seems disposed to talk. The Gillespies do not say much.

—Asheville Special, July 23: It was learned here to-day that Thomas A. Edison, the wizard of the electrical world, last week commenced mining operations for cobalt near Webster, in Jackson county. It is said that several other mines will shortly be opened. The mining of cobalt by Mr. Edison is being conducted at present on a very small scale, only ten or twelve men being employed. The Cobalt is shipped to New York in crude form and there rendered. It is said that machinery will, however, be shipped to the cobalt deposits on which Mr. Edison has options and active mining operations undertaken. Mr. Edison while here declared that by the use of cobalt he could reduce the cost of city traffic 55 per cent. and cut the weight of storage batteries about 50 per cent.

—Reidsville Special, July 21: Colonel David Settle died at his home at Wentworth at 11 o'clock last night after a lingering illness. He was one of the county's best known citizens, having been prominently identified with every movement for its interest for several years. He was clerk of the county court and was deputy marshal of this district under Cleveland's administration. He was candidate for nomination to Congress on the Democratic ticket to oppose his nephew, Hon. Thomas Settle, Republican. He represented this county in the legislature and served in the Confederate cause throughout the entire war. The remains will be buried in Greenview cemetery here tomorrow. Colonel Settle was a brother to the late Judge Settle, Minister to Peru and candidate for governor against Vance. He was about 65 years of age.

—Clinton Correspondence: Friday night, after the close of the Teachers' Institute several persons, under the direction of Mr. D. L. Ellis, here, decided to make a raid on a the principal of the graded school swarm of bees that has for many years been domociled in the old "college," now known as the graded school building. The bees had taken up quarters between the floors of the first and second stories of the building, finding access to the place through a rent in a weather boarding. A section of the flooring was removed, the bees having been "Oslerized" by pouring chloroform through a crevice in the floor, and row after row of virgin honey combs was laid bare. The whole store of many years' labor was quickly and safely transferred to tubs, buckets, trays and pails, much to the delight of those who took part in this midnight robbery of the little "busy bee." There was at least 200 pounds of the honey, much of it of the finest, richest quality.

Still Ahead in Low Prices

Our regular prices are much cheaper than any special prices yet advertised. Our goods are NEW. The following shows how and why we do and can undersell.

Discount on account of large purchases, average,	10 pr. ct
Discount for cash (we pay cash), average	10 pr. ct
Savings of freight on car shipment, average	5 pr. ct
Total,	25 pr. ct

As you see, we can sell goods at a profit of 25 per cent. and at the same time sell them for just what they would cost us if we bought in small quantities, paid local freight and bought on time. We do not try to make 25 per cent.

Our claim is corroborated by the number of prudent purchasers we send. For June the 1st to the present, we have sold $4,540.21 worth of goods, received more than $3,300.00 in cash. Our books are open for inspection of any doubters. When in need of furniture come to headquarters.

BENEFIT FRIDAY NIGHT.

Society Event of the Present Season at Wrightsville Beach.

The concert and entertainment to be given at the Casino, on Wrightsville Beach, Friday night of this week promises to be the society event of the season at the seashore. The affair is under the auspices of the Ministering Circle of the King's Daughters and will be for the benefit of the James Walker Memorial Hospital. Well known society people of the city and beach will take part and a number of out-of-town visitors will be here for the event. One of the features will be a "Tableaux Vivants," or living pictures. Another will be fancy dancing and music by the favorite vocalists of this and other cities. The doors will open at 9 o'clock. The admission will be 75 cents with no reserved seats so that all will be served alike.

On the night of the benefit the Consolidated Company will sell round trip tickets on the 7:30, 8:00 and 8:30 o'clock cars, including admission to the Casino, for $1.00. Aside from the worthy cause for which the benefit is given, those who attend are assured of an artistic and altogether pleasing affair.

Restaurant Man in Court.

Growing out of some differences with Deputy Sheriff Jno. W. Smith, who had just served an execution upon him and had gone back to release the same upon an appeal having been perfected, Mr. Anderson, proprietor of the Delmonico Cafe, was haled to the court of Justice Bornemann yesterday afternoon on charges of assaulting the officer by pushing him and with interfering with him in the discharge of his duty as an officer. Mr. Anderson gave bond with his attorney, C. D. Weeks, Esq., as surety for preliminary trial before Justice Bornemann at noon to-day.

Tore Rent Signs Down.

A unique case was brought before Justice Bornemann yesterday when Mr. Batson, of the real estate agency of Mr. J. M. Bunting, had a warrant served on Willie Billy, colored, charged with tearing rent signs down from a dwelling occupied by him. The colored man contends that, while he is to vacate the house, he has paid his rent until a certain date and therefore the real estate man has no right to tack the "For Rent" sign on his house. Justice Bornemann held otherwise and the negro was taxed with the costs. At the same time he was admonished not to bother any more signs on the house.

The Mayor' Court Yesterday.

Only a few cases were disposed of in the police court yesterday. Allen Pettifort, drunk, was let off with the costs. Andrew Howard, colored, charged with keeping an unsanitary place, was let off on condition that he settle scavenger bill and have the premises cleaned. James Wilson, charged with being drunk and down, was let off upon his promise to leave the city at once. George W. Mills was charged with an assault in mixing up in an affray between some boys, but he was found not guilty and was discharged.

Their Little Son Dead.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Penny tenderly sympathize with them in the death of their little son, Rufus Harold, aged a little more than one year, which occurred at the family home yesterday morning at 5 o'clock. The funeral will be conducted from the residence at 10 o'clock this morning, No. 312 North Eighth street, and the interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

BRASS THIEVES HELD.

Preliminary Trial Yesterday in Justice Furlong's Court.

The five young negroes arrested early Monday morning by Constable Savage and the other officers for stealing a large amount of brass and other junk from the Consolidated Company and the Atlantic Coast Line were given prelimnary trial before Justice Furlong yesterday afternoon and were put under $100 bond in each case for their appearance in this week's Superior Court. In default of bond in each instance the negroes were recommitted to jail. The cases of M. and B. May, charged with receivng the goods, knowing them to have been stolen, were continued for preliminary trial until Friday at 3 o'clock before Justice Furlong. They have employed Messrs. Bellamy & Bellamy and Herbert McClammy, Esq., to defend them.

The young negroes tried yesterday were George Robinson, Haywood Higgins, Jim Brown, John Fifer and "Son" Baldwin, alias Black. Robinson was represented by Herbert McClammy, Esq., who waived an examination and consented for the boy to be bound over. Messrs. George Rountree and T. W. Davis appeared for the A. C. L. and the Consolidated Company in the prosecution. The youthful prisoners fell out with one another and inscriminated each other right and left. Higgins seemed to have been the leader of the gang, acting generally as sales agent and disbursing officer. Messrs. Thos. Torpy, John B. Joyner and Roy Vann were witnesses for the A. C. L. A number of other industrial plants were represented by employes looking for metal that had been stolen from them. From the A. C. L. one injector valued at $70 was sold for $7; an injector stolen from the Consolidated power house, valued at $40 was sold for $1.53. Other stuff valued at $20 was sold for $4.07. The negroes after court smoked stumps of cigarettes together and seemed to be enjoying the prominence they were receivng.

His Fifieth Birthday.

Surrounded by members of his family of two generations and a number of friends, Mr. S. H. Mintz last night most auspiciously celebrated his fiftieth birthday at his hospitable home, No. 717 South Seventh street. An elegant supper was served and the occasion is spoken of by all present as a very happy affair indeed. Among the guests were Mr. Mintz's only brother, Mr. J. W. Mintz and his wife and children and their wives as follows: Mr. J. E. Mintz, wife and three children; Mr. W. S. Mintz, wife and one child; Mr. I. T. Mintz, wife and two children; his brother, Mr. J. W. Mintz, wife and two children, Mr. L. B. Mintz and wife, Mr. Chas. Blake and wife and one child and his youngest daughter, Miss Naomi Mintz and Mrs. Mary Mintz and Miss L. G. Mintz.

Died in This City.

Mrs. Bettie Howard, wife of Mr. H. B. Howard, of Salemburg, Sampson county, who came to Wilmington some time ago with the hope that the change of climate would be beneficial to her health, died last night about 10:30 o'clock at the home of her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bagget, in this city. She had been ill for some time with tuberculosis. She leaves a husband and four children, who have the sympathy of many in their deep bereavement. The remains will be taken to Salemburg this morning for interment.

Bowling Alley Scores.

The scores in the Lumina Bowling contest up to 12 o'clock last night were as follows: R. C. Orr, 182; J. McRee Hatch, 175; L. W. Austin, 181; F. W. Banks, 173 and C. Brinkley, 161.

The Wilmington Light Infantry will leave on a special train for the encampment at Morehead City, being joined here by the Charlotte Artillery and the Maxton Guards, arriving on a special train over the Seaboard Air Line. It is expected that the special train will leave here at 12:30 P. M., over the Newbern road and all members of the W. L. I. are requested to assemble at the armory by 11:30 A. M. All baggage must be at the armory by 10 o'clock. After hard work a bare percentage of the company's strength has been secured for the encampment, and those failing to report will subject the company to disbandment. Otherwise, the boys are in fine shape and will make their usual fine showing with the guard. All who will be taken are bona-fide members and are going prepared to do their duty. The roster is as follows:

Captain—Wm. F. Robertson.

Second Lieutenant—Thos. R. Orrell.

Sergeants—P. L. Cantwell, T. J. Gause, L. E. Hall, J. H. Davis, W. A. Peschau.

Corporals—A. C. Smith, N. S. Morse, W. L. Moore, C. L. Myers, J. B. Lynch, Zach Bell.

Privates—Fred. Banck, P. W. Davis, A. T. Gibbons, J. F. Gause, Jr., R. F. Hamme, Jr., E. H. Holmes, N. Huske, Jr., P. M. Holmes, E. C. Hines, J. W. Little, H. A. Lynch, J. Q. Myers, T. D. Meares, Jr., L. L. Merritt, L. B. McKoy, R. H. McKoy, B. W. Newkirk, Jr., H. L. O'Neill, E. F. Peschau, J. S. Potts, H. P. Reeves, W. L. Smith, W. Stokley, J. C Slocumb, R. E. Tapp, T. C. Trembly, Waddell Watters and William Watters.

I. O. O. F. ANNUAL OUTING.

Hanover Lodge Will Enjoy Big Event at Beach This Week.

The annual outing or "Birthday Party" of Hanover Lodge No. 145, I. O. O. F., of this city, will take place Friday at Carolina Beach and a most delightful affair it promises to be. Odd Fellows and their families and friends generally are expected to be present and it will be a great gathering. There will be four trips of the steamer Wilmington at 9:15 A. M., 2:45, 5:15 and 7:45 P. M., and a late boat returning at night, leaving the beach at 11 o'clock. The fare will be only 25 cents for the round trip.

The committee in charge is composed of Ed. N. Penny, chairman; Jno. E. Wood and E. F. Johnston and they have been fortunate in securing to deliver an address upon this occasion Robert W. Davis, Esq., of the Southport bar and a member of Atlantic Lodge, I. O. O. F., of his town. The speaking will take place at 4 o'clock in the pavilion at the beach. Other features will be music, dancing, bathing, trap-shooting, bowling, bathing, etc. Good order will be preserved and all Odd Fellows are especially invited to spend at least a part of the day.

MOVING PICTURES TO-NIGHT.

Views of Great 'Frisco Horror at Academy of Music.

A novel and decidedly attractive offering will be made by the Academy to-night in a moving picture exhibition of the San Francisco earthquake. The scenes will be realistic and will cause many a thrill. They will show 'Frisco before the calamity, during the raging of the fire and the work of rebuilding the great, but ruined city. Besides these pictures there will be many of mirthful nature and a clever vaudeville programme is also to be presented. The scale of prices runs from 25 to 50 cents and seats can be purchased at Plummer's.

LOCAL DOTS.

—There will be communion at St. James' church to-day at the usual hour for the service.

—There were sales of rosin after hours yesterday at $3.60 per barrel. During hours $3.55 was bid for the product.

—Services First Church of Christ, Scientist, this evening at 8:15 o'clock, Odd Fellows' building, second floor. All are invited.

—The schooner Emma S. Lord cleared yesterday for Fajardo, Porto Rico, with cargo of lumber valued at $7,500, and consigned by the Kidder Lumber Company; vessel by C. D. Maffitt.

—Friends will regret to know that a little son of Mr. W. B. Cooper fell at the Summer home of the family, on Wrightsville Sound, yesterday afternoon and suffered a painful fracture of the arm. Dr. F. H. Russell attended the little sufferer and last night he was doing very well.

Infant Child Dead.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McMillan, No. 717 South Eighth street, will sympathize with them in the death of their nine-months-old child, Catherine Elizabeth McMillan, which occurred Monday night after an illness of some time. The remains were taken to Clinton, N. C., for interment yesterday morning.

unanimous resolution to raise the money for the purchase of a site and the erection of a suitable building as a Home. A committee to raise funds for this commendable object will be named by the chairman of the meeting to-day and it will report to a future meeting to be held. Sub-committees will also be named and it is hoped to have every man, woman and child in the city feel it their privilege to contribute. The Star will be glad to receive any amounts that are offered and will transmit them to the proper authorities.

The option on the Stokeley place which is in view, will expire Aug. 8th., and it is hoped by that date to have an amount sufficient to warrant the committee in proceeding with the purchase. There is now in sight about $2,000 but about $3,000 is needed more and $5,000 is desired for maintenance.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

What She Needed to Play the Piano Properly.

It was exceptionally warm, and the group of girls in the reception room of the college settlement were restless and tired of the classical music which their entertainer had been playing for their pleasure. She realized this, but was unable to improve matters, for she could not play the popular music which some of the girls wanted.

Apologizing for her ignorance of "I Want You, My Honey; Yes, I Do," "Googoo Eyes" and other favorites, she finally said:

"Can't some of you girls play?"

All seemed to agree that "Becky was a fine performer," though Becky protested that she couldn't play "good enough." This idea her champions hooted, crediting her reluctance to natural modesty.

"Why, she's got a gold medal at home that her teacher gave her for her fine playin'," said one of her friends.

This proved a convincing argument, and Becky allowed herself to be led to the long suffering piano.

With the exception of an occasional false note the first few bars went very nicely, and the admiring audience beamed with delight. Then things began to go wrong. There were wonderful discords and frequent stops.

"I've forgotten it. I don't know the rest," said the embarrassed Becky.

"Try again. It will come back," suggested the settlement girl. And the friends offered their encouraging advice. So she began again, but broke down at the same place. This time a deluge of tears accompanied the failure, and Becky was not to be consoled.

"If I only had my gold medal with me, I know I could play it right through!" she sobbed.

NEW ZEALAND GEYSERS.

Among Them Is Said to Be the Biggest Spouter In the World.

Yellowstone park is reputed to have the most magnificent geysers in the world, but their reputation is based upon the statements of travelers who have never been to New Zealand and who know nothing of its natural wonders.

Leaving Auckland by a fast express train, a journey of eight hours brings one to Rotorua, where may be seen the most splendid geyser which is probably to be found anywhere in the world. To give one some idea of the magnitude of the geyser I need mention only the height of some of the surrounding objects. Over the "Inferno crater," which contains a seething lake of water, is a small shelter shed 450 feet above the plain. The surface of the water in the geyser basin when at rest is about forty feet below this plain. The height of the eruption must often be about 900 feet. This is by no means exceptional. Higher "shots" have been recorded. I have myself seen a shot computed at 1,200 feet. Some months ago the area of the basin was measured in a small boat by a Mr. Buckeridge and a guide. They found that the area is about two and a half acres, from which it may be inferred that this geyser may well be called the largest in the world.

The geyser plays about twenty-two times each month, is very erratic and gives no warning when it is about to erupt. The theory is advanced that the basin is somewhat like a funnel and that when the water and stones are ejected the larger stones return and jam in the neck, thereby choking the outlet, so that an enormous pressure of steam must shift them. When the pressure is sufficiently great to blow out the obstructions it naturally would eject water to a great height. The theory, however, is at best rather fanciful.

This geyser is not the only one to be seen in the vicinity. Others may be mentioned, such as the Pohutu, Wairoa, Feather, Papakura and others, besides mud volcanoes.—Scientific American

JOE GANS DEFEATS DAVE HOLLY.

Negro Prize Fighter Had All He Could Do.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Seattle, Wash., July 24.—Joe Gans was given the decision over Dave Holly at Pleasant Beach last night after an interesting battle that went the limit, twenty rounds. Gans had his opponent groggy in the last round, but could not put him down. Gans had absolutely no chance to show his science in clean fighting, but was forced, throughout the fight, to fight the battle at which Holly is best.

Gans received a punch in the right eye that cut a deep gash, and a little later Holly landed again and during the remainder of the contest Gans was fighting with one eye closed. When the gong that marked the close of the fight sounded, the men were clinched.

BIG GASOLENE TANK EXPLODED.

Horrible Death of Young Man at Durham—Negro Injured.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 24.—By the explosion of a supposedly empty forty-thousand gallon tank of gasoline at the works of the Standard Oil Company, in Durham, this afternoon, Louis Holloway, 20 years of age, of high standing, was killed, while Tom Lunsford, a negro, was so horribly burned that he will die. Holloway was blown from the top of the tank, his clothing stripped from his body, the flesh burned. He died twenty minutes after the explosion, in great agony, begging to be killed. The negro fell inside the burning tank, his screams of agony telling his location. Firemen got on top and with a rope, which he caught, drew him out, the burned flesh slipping from his hands and body.

NEW TURN IN LYERLY MURDER.

Negro's Confession Said to Implicate White Man.

Asheville, N. C., July 24.—A special from Salisbury, N. C., says:

"A new turn was taken today in the case against the murderers of the four members of the Lyerly family when a written confession was placed in the hands of Sheriff D. R. Julian, of Rowan county, having been forwarded from the Mecklenburg prison. The statement is signed by Alexander Massey and W. N. Mitchell, two of the five prisoners charged with the crime. It declares that Jack Dillington, another negro, and a white man whose name is withheld, killed Lylerly, his wife, a son and a daughter, because of a dispute between Lyerly and the wife of Dillingham. The statement recites that Dillingham does not deny the deed and is not afraid to confess, now that he is assured protection in the Charlotte jail.

THE HAMLET WRECK.

Corporation Commission Back From Their Investigation Tour.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 24.—The Corporation Commission returned this evening on a belated train from a visit to the scene of the terrible wreck of the Seaboard, near Hamlet, but has not yet given out a statement as to the investigation of the cause of the wreck. They examined especially into the disputed facts as to the sending of the order for holding the passenger train at Rockingham. They took the statement of the operator denying that he received any such order; also examined Mr. Jewell, operator in the dispatcher's office at Raleigh, who swears to having sent the dispatch to the Rockingham operator.

THE SMILE MUSCLES.

A Keyboard on Which We Play With More or Less Skill.

Smiling has been studied from a physical standpoint by George Dumas, a French physiologist, and his conclusions on why we smile are published in the Literary Digest, translated and condensed from the Revue Scientifique. M. Dumas produced artificial smiles by applying an electric current to the nerves under the lobe of the ear.

"The muscles concerned in smiling were made to contract, and the opposing muscles remained quiescent, but the action of the members of the smiling group was unequal, so that most of the 'electric smiles' that the experimenter obtained seemed to indicate grief rather than joy, particularly since the contraction around the eye exceeded that around the mouth. Nevertheless he considers the result a triumph for his theory and exhibits with pride a photograph of a 'unilateral smile' caused by electric excitation of only one side of the face."

He says a smile may appear without any psychologic excitation and in itself has no expressive value. "And man," he says, "has formed the habit of associating the muscular sensations and the sight of these movements with an agreeable impression, so that he regards them as a sign expressive of this state of pleasure. To manifest it he has formed, by association, the habit of smiling and considering the smile of others as an evidence of their satisfaction. * * * We have learned to smile in different ways to indicate irony, indulgence, etc., and the accentuation of the movements of different muscles has assumed the same value as a shrug of the shoulders, the raising of the head or the pronunciation of certain syllables or words. It is thus that psychologic progress has made of the smile a keyboard on which we play with more or less skill.

"The oriental, especially the Japanese, always smiles out of politeness, even when he is sad, because it is a social fault to sadden a stranger. He has reached the maximum of self mastery and, in a sense, a superior state of psychologic progress and of civilization."

M. Dumas says animals do not smile with their faces because their facial muscles are not, as in man, the most mobile. Those of his tail are a dog's most mobile muscles, therefore "he smiles" by moving his tail, and this movement has a tendency, even in his case, to become a real gesture. Cats also smile with the tail and perhaps also birds. The erectile muscles of the feathers and tail are, with the magpie for instance, real smiling muscles.

How Whales Get Food.

To obtain food the whale swims through the water with its mouth open. The water pours in the aperture and carries with it hundreds of small fish and marine animals.

The water escapes through the sides of the mouth, but the fish are caught and held by a row of stiff bonelike objects along the sides of the jaws. These are whalebones, so useful in commerce. These and the oil found in the glands of the throat make the whale very valuable.

There are several varieties of whales, but the sperm whale, though the smallest, is the most valuable.

AN UPHEAVAL IN NEW JERSEY

Senator Dryden Having a Hot Time in Campaign for Re-election—Senator La Follette in Fight.

(Washington Post, Editorial.)

Strange and significant news comes out of New Jersey through the medium of our Staunch Republican contemporary, the New York Press. According to a carefully prepared review of the political situation in the State of mosquitoes and truats by a staff correspondent of the Press, the Hon. John Fairfield Dryden, for thirty-one years the directing genius of one of the largest life insurance companies in the country, and a Senator of the United States since January, 1902, is seriously in danger of losing re-election at the hands of his constituents this year. Senator Dryden's term will expire next March, and he is frank enough to declare to the Jerseyites his very great desire to serve them for a full term in the legislative branch of last resort.

His colleague, Mr. Kean, is openly and boldly supporting his cause, and is proclaiming from Hoboken to Cape May that there is a political partnership between the two Senators which is fraught with much weal for the State and nation. It appears, however, that a bumptious person of the suggestive name of Record has stirred a considerable portion of the Jerseyites to revolt against what he denounces as the old machine, and the revolt seemingly is spreading with amazing rapidity. In point of fact, it apparently has spread so far and fast already as to have made the prospect for continued success of the Kean-Dryden political partnership so gloomy that despair now broods where for years confidence has sat enthroned and jocund.

But the most grotesque—or is it the most significant?—feature of this strange situation in New Jersey is that the Kean-Dryden forces tremble with fear as the Hon. Robert Marion La Follette's progress as a veritable besom of reform brings him nearer to the Chautauqua circuit of New Jersei. It is not known that the Wiscossin Senator's Catonian face and Ciceronian eloquence are personally familiar to any other Jerseyites than those who sit in high places in Washington. But, somehow, the Jersey folks are looking forward to the visit of La Follette as an event of vast importance and as one upon which hangs quiveringly the fate of Senator Dryden. It will be recalled that when Mr. La Follette was establishing his record as a long-distance talker in the Senate on the railway-rate bill, he faced empty benches, but, unabashed or undeterred, he swept his arms in vigorous gesticulation around his head and proclaimed what he then declared to be prophetic, that as the result of the elections this year some of the chairs then temporarily vacated would be made permanently vacant.

It remains, of course, to be seen whether the words then spoken by Mr. La Follette were the words of prophecy. If the conditions existing at present in New Jersey are being properly and soberly represented, the Wisconsin statesman is entitled to due meed of praise for prescience, whatever may be thought of his political principles and methods; for, surely, if a La Follette, by the mere promise of a visit to the State, can upset things in New Jersey, when he shall have visited the State and thundered forth as he has been thundering in Indiana and other Western communities, to the dismay of divers and sundry of his Senatorial colleagues, wreck and ruin will be strewn around where once there stood impregnable political machines.

And if upheaval is thus threatened in New Jersey, what is going on in other States which have not been so completely under the domination of up-to-date political organization? No wonder the adroit Theodore Roosevelt has summoned a conference at Sagamore Hill to-day of the Republican managers of the impending Congressional campaign.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide .

Frederick Manuell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

"I was a loser in a twenty year battle with chronic piles and malignant sores, until I tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve; which turned the tide, by curing both, till not a trace remains," writes A. M. Bruce, of Farmville, Va. Best for old Ulcers, Cuts, Burns and Wounds. 25c at all druggists. **

Coonskins and Politics

[Copyright, 1905, by I. D. Marshall.]

Hut Hatton was the coonskin buyer away up at Dawson's Cove on the big Cumberland mountain. Hut decided to run for the legislature. All the mountaineers were with him. He didn't have to promise anything in particular, but he wanted to show his liberality, and he promised immunity from the revenue laws; he promised pensions for sufferers with mumps and measles; he promised that the price of railroad ties should go up and that the price of whisky should go down.

Hut Hatton was elected by the largest majority ever given a candidate in his district, and in due time appeared at Nashville. He saw men whom he took to be legislators step into carriages at the depot and ride away to hotels, but the memories of Dawson's Cove were still fresh in his mind when he shouldered his carpetbag and headed up the middle of the street. Of course men smiled and women giggled, and the hoodlums called direct attention to the member from Coonskin county, but Hut Hatton minded them not. He was thinking of mumps and measles and pensions and was wondering if he hadn't bitten off more than he could chew.

The member from Coonskin county, as he was facetiously termed, found trouble in catching on and did not progress enough to even move an adjournment. He could tell a "prime" coonskin three rods away, but there was a mystery about lawmaking that puzzled him. He might have sat the session out without once addressing the speaker officially had not circumstances interfered. He was still trying to find which way was up hill and which way down when a delegation from the Cove arrived. The railroad had refused to raise the price of ties to 75 cents each, and the mountaineers were weary of waiting for those pensions and front door bells. Bears had become less plentiful, and it was generally agreed that such a scarcity of coons and possums had not been known for twenty-five years.

Things were out of joint up on the Cumberland, and as they had heard nothing from Hut they ventured the journey to remind him of his promises and get a hustle on him. He was easily found, and his knees wabbled when he faced the delegation. However, even three months of political life had given him a reserve force. He put the best face on the matter he could, and when pushed to the limit he took a desperate resolve. Somewhere he had seen a sign reading "If You Don't See What You Want, Ask For It." He wanted something—several things—and he determined to ask for them. A wabbly feeling came over him as he thought of rising in his place and asking for the things he had promised his constituents, but he could see no other way out of it. A man must have been a politician for several years before he can wriggle out of all sorts of holes, including broken promises.

An hour came when the member from Coonskin county arose and was recognized by the speaker. The house had caught on and was as quiet as death. By a supreme effort of will power Hut got rid of his "skeertness" and summoned up his gab, and in his quaint way and queer vernacular he told his wants. He asked for everything he had promised, and his mumps and measles pension bill stood out so clearly that his fellow members felt their jaws ache as they looked into each other's face for signs of "breaking out." It was the effort of Hut's life. It was to stand out as the speech of the session. He hadn't the slightest doubt in his mind when he sat down that the state of Tennessee was twice as big as Uncle Sam and that all he had asked for would be granted him within an hour.

There was silence for thirty seconds, and then roars of laughter carried him and the Dawson Cove delegation out of the hall. They walked down the graveled path to the street and no one spoke. They turned down the street and walked for half a mile and no man looked another in the face. By and by Hut halted and stopped the others with a gesture. Uncle Sile Wiggins had come down at the head of the delegation and it was he who was appealed to.

"Dog-gone it, Uncle Sile, but what does it all mean?"

Uncle Sile looked at him in comradeship and pity and slowly wagged his head. When he had wagged it ten times he put his hand on the other's shoulder and kindly said:

"Hut, come along back to Dawson's Cove. Yo' can't stand up agin it."

"Dog-gone me if I don't go back!"

The next day's sun was setting when Linda Hatton, standing on her front door step and looking down the road, saw five men with coonskin caps approaching. One of them had a familiar looking carpetbag on his shoulder—the others had empty hands. They came along in single file, with their heads down and no one speaking. It had been so since leaving the railroad town.

"Huh, but it's Hut!" said Linda, as the five came to a halt before her.

"Yes, it's me," was the reply, as the carpetbag fell to the ground.

"What's the trubble?"

"Linda," answered Hut, as his eyes gladdened and he heaved a sigh of relief, "I went into politics and riz up from coonskins to goin' down to Nashville."

"Yo' did, Hut, yo' did."

"And now I've gone out of politics and riz back from Nashville to coonskins, and dog my cats if any critter in this world can ever coax me into bein' great agin! Nayburs, come in and hev a nip of that same old moonshine!"

THE COTTON MARKETS.

New York, July 24.—After a slight early advance the cotton market turned weak and fell off to the low level of July 3rd. Sales for the to-day were estimated at 200,000 bales.

The market opened steady at an advance of 3 to 4 points and soon sold 5 to 6 points net higher, or about 9 to 11 points above the low level of the previous day on covering of shorts and a little buying for long account, inspired by firmer cables and reports of wet weather in the eastern belt. But there was no snap to the buying, and the market weakened toward midday under the renewal of local bear pressure and liquidation, which was undoubtedly due in some measure to the disheartening advices concerning the Russian situation. The close was at practically the lowest point of the day. The weekly report of the weather bureau was considered about a standoff and had no effect on the arket. The showers reported in the eastern belt were light and the forecast, while calling for rain to-morrow in the western belt was for clear weather in the west. It was reported that 15 towns in Texas received new bales at the end of last week.

Receipts at the ports to-day 6,065 bales against 7,829 last week and 24,343 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans 1,997 bales against 3,888 last year, and at Houston 657 bales against 6,747 last year.

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman' neglect permitted a loak in the great Northern Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, ot become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIver of aVnceboro, Me., permitte1 a little cold to go unnoticed until a tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflamation caused by a neglected cold; but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life. MUST HAVE MORE THAN HALF

"A good many people have not stopped to think that in order to win the next presidential election the Democrats will have to get one more vote than the Republicans," said Judge W. B. Alexander of Chicago.

"How do you make that out, judge?"

"Well, it's easy enough. The total vote of the electoral college is 476. If it should by any rare chance happen that each party got one-half this total—in other words, if the election resulted in a tie, the Democrats getting 238 and the Republicans the same number, the contest would then be thrown into the house of representatives. The Republicans in that body, having a large predominance in the number of states under their control, would proceed of course to the election of their candidate.

"So you will observe that in order to win the Democrats will have to secure 239 votes, or just one more than half the college, while the other side can make out on 238."—Washington Post.

American Trousers In London.

I notice that visitors from the United States this summer, and especially the younger men, are wearing very loose trousers, and, while there is at present no tendency in this country to depart from the rather close fit which has been for a long time prevalent, possibly this may eventually lead the way to a change in British fashion.

I hope, though on this it is possible I may be disappointed, that the American visitors who have brought wide trousers with them will take back a preference for our own decidedly superior cut instead of infecting us with a taste which cannot be critically approved. In any event, the creased front is rather an absurd accompaniment of loose trousers. If we are eventually to have loose trousers, they will look a good deal better if not thus creased, at least so thinks the present writer.—London Men's Wear.

A Nervy Little General.

General Esteban Huertas, commander in chief of the army of Panama, is believed to be the youngest and smallest general in the world, as his country is the youngest, if not the smallest, of republics. He is about twenty-nine years old, has been a soldier since he was eight or nine and is proud of the fact that he has risen from the lowest ranks. In one of the revolutions of a few years ago, when he was fighting on the side of the government, his right arm was hit by a shell. It is said that when he found his arm was nearly severed he hacked off the rest with his own knife, had the short stub bound and resumed his work in the field. Now, for his services to Panama during the critical period of its birth he has been granted $50,000 to pay the expense of a trip to study the military organizations of the leading nations.

President Polk In Boston.

Charles J. Bateman, a descendant of President Polk, asked to tell of some anecdote concerning his distinguished ancestor, told the following story:

"It is said that when President Polk visited Boston he was impressively received at Faneuil Hall market. The clerk walked in front of him down the length of the market, announcing in loud tones:

"'Make way, gentlemen, for the president of the United States! The president of the United States! Fellow citizens, make room!'

"The chief executive had stepped into one of the stalls to look at some game when Mr. Rhodes, the secretary, turned around suddenly and, finding himself alone, promptly changed his tone and exclaimed:

"'My gracious! Where has that confounded idiot got to?'"—Louisville Herald.

A Careless Dresser.

Camille Pelletan, French minister of marine, has a disregard for the niceties of dress which makes him a favorite with cartoonists. His white hair and beard seem to be absolutely unacquainted with a comb, his trousers are nearly always too long, and he delights in frock coats several sizes too large for him. Huge boots, faded necktie and cuffs that are generally on the verge of fringe are other parts of his unique make-up. His friends remonstrate with him regarding his carelessness, but M. Pelletan responds calmly, "What matter so long as I am comfortable?"

Carbolic Acid In Warfare.

Among the supplies that are being affected by the war is carbolic acid. That popular nerve scarifier is not, however, in such great demand for Red Cross purposes, but for the manufacture of explosives. Lyddite and melinite are both manufactured from picric acid, and picric acid is merely a form of carbolic acid.—Singapore Straits Times.

BRYAN'S ELOQUENCE AROUSED CONFERENCE

Spoke in London in Advocacy of Enlarging Scope of Arbitration to Prevent War—Preparedness for War Will Bankrupt Powers.

(By Cable to The Morning Star.)

London, July 24.—Wm. J. Bryan's proposed rider to the model arbitration was discussed at a session of the International Council of the Inter-Parliamentary Union this morning and resulted in its being recast, as follows:

"If a disagreement should arise which is not included in those to be submitted to arbitration, the contracting parties shall not resort to any act of hostility before they separately and jointly invite, as the case ay necessitate, the formation of an international commission of inquiry or mediation, of one or more friendly powers, this requisition to take place if necessary in accordance with Article VIII of The Hague convention providing for a peaceful settlement of international conflicts."

On the resumption of the sessions to-day the above was unanimously adopted after speeches by Former Austrian Minister of Commerce Von Plener and Mr. Bryan warmly supporting the amended rider. The latter said that his amendment was aimed at widening the scope of arbitration so as to include questions of national honor, the pace being a 100 to 1. If the hand of war could be stayed till the conscience is awakened, wars would become more remote. The amendment, therefore, was a long step in the direction of peace. Mr. Bryan's speech was brief, but it was eloquent and aroused much enthusiasm among delegates.

Baron De 'Estournelles, De Constant, head of the French delegation, subsequently opened the debate on the limitation of military and naval forces. He declared that if the powers were undecided among themselves how to act for their common interests, they would be forced to do so, first by bankruptcy and then by revolution. Germany, continued the Baron, commits the grave fault of struggling with the United States for naval pre-eminence and thus divides her enemies both on land and sea.

FRIGHTFUL WRECK ON GREAT NORTHERN

Passenger Train Plunged Over Precipice Seventy Feet Into Lake—Seven Known Dead and Many Injured—Coaches Were Submerged.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Spokane, Wash., July 24.—At least seven lives were lost, seven persons seriously injured and a score of others sutained cuts and bruises in a wreck of the fast mail train on the Great Northern, a mile and a quarter east of Camden, Washington, 35 miles east of Spokane, late yesterday, when the train left the rails and plunged over the seventy-foot embankment and was submerged in the waters of the Raimond Lake.

The dead: N. Edward Munson, engineer, Hillyard, Washington; Frank Bell, fireman, Hillyard; Charles Danner, mail clerk, Spokane; George R. Strickland, express messenger; Geo. Howard Curtis, Spokane; T. J. Dolbow, Spokane; unidentified man.

Immediately after the smoker struck the water there was a blinding flash, which spread over the part of the car not submerged and a fire followed. The flames were extinguished by the passengers and the train crew.

W. S. Ninneman, a contractor for construction work on the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Cmpany, broke through a window to escape from the burning and half-submerged smoker. Mr. Ninneman said:

"We were coming at a fearful speed through that tunnel and we passengers were all wondering if the engineer had lost his head, driving that rate of speed with a sharp curve ahead. I think we must have been going 50 miles an hour."

Only two bodies, those of Geo. H. Curtis and T. J. Dolbow, passengers, both of Spokane, have been recovered. The engine is believed to be about 60 or 70 feet under water and the bodies of Engineer Munson and Fireman Bell may not be recovered for days. It is thought the mail and baggage cars, with the bodies of Mail Clerk Donner and Baggageman Strickland may be recovered before night. The injured are reported to be progressing favorably.

VERY FRUITFUL OF SENSATIONS

Famous Pittsburg Divorce Case Promises Further Nauseating Developments.

OTHER ARRESTS TO BE MADE

Those Who Have Been Stealing Letters and Documents Will Have to Account for It—Another Negro Witness.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Pittsburg, July 24.—From the statement made by Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb to-day, there are more sensations indicated in connection with the Hartje divorce case. Mr. Robb said that as soon as the Hartje case was submitted to the court there would be arrests which would develop pronounced sensations. It is rumored that if any one goes on the witness stand and testifies that they broke open Madine's tunk, arrests will follow.

After several hours devoted by counsel for Augustus Hartje to an endeavor to prove that the Susie Wagner letter was written by Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje, which she has denied writing, the evidence in rebuttal of Mrs. Hartje's defense took a new turn to-day.

B. B. Smith, an insurance agent, swore that he found the "Dear Edith" letter in the street, and after consulting an attorney, gave it to Edward G. Hartje, brother of the plaintiff.

Silas Canady, a negro from Washington, D. C., testified that Blanche Ashby, former servant of the Hartjes, who in her deposition, says she never observer anything improper about Mrs. Hartje's conduct, had told him that she lied.

Canady was put through a rigid cross-examination by Attorney John Freeman, for Mrs. Hartje, during which he became confused several times. Canady said that when he learned that Blanche Ashby was going to get a lot of money for lying, he wrote to Mr. Hartje to find out if he could not get some money for telling the truth.

Attorney E. G. Hartje, brother of the libellant, was cross-examined by Attorney John M. Freeman, who asked him why he had not told the court of the finding of the letters alleged to have been written by Miss Helen Scott, in the room of "Tom" Madine. Mr. Hartje said he did not know, and that he had not been asked in particular about that.

He also said the papers which Attorney Freeman had said were stolen from his office had been found in the Duueane Bank and given to him by Attorney Charles Locke. The witness was scored on cross-examination by Attorney Freeman for retaining letter belonging to Mr. Freeman.

One of the alleged Helen Scott letters was made public to-day, although it had not been read in court. It is a letter to "Tom" Madine, the coachman co-respondent in the case, and purports to show that she "coached" him as to the testimony he was to give in court concerning the allegation that Madine had driven Mr. Hartje to Schenley Park, while Mrs. Hartje was at Memphis, and where he met a strange woman, an incident that has figured in the case heretofore.

EMPEROR OF RUSSIA SENTENCED TO DEATH

Terrorists Issue Startling Proclamations in Russia. Country on Eve of Bloody Upheaval—Bloody Programme Opened at Odessa Yesterday.

By Cable to The Morning Star.

St. Petersburg, July 24.—War to the knife with revolution and the knife to the hilt, was proclaimed to-day by Premier Stolypin in a telegram addressed to the governor generals, governors and prefects throughout Russia and to the viceroy of the Caucaus, who were ordered to strike and spare no efforts to preserve order and crush "the enemies of society."

Included in this category, as shown by the events of the day, are not only revolutionists and socialists, but also the educated and land classes represented in the constitutional Democratic party, whose clubs everywhere have been closed, and all the progressive newspapers, which are not permitted to lift their voices anywhere throughout the entire land. Premier stolypin's telegram is as follows:

"In conformity with instructions received from the Emperor with the view to securing full co-operation between the different local authorities, I hereby inform you that the government expects you to exercise vigilant and untiring supervision over your subordinates so that order may be promptly and definitely restored. Disturbances must be suppressed and revolutionary movements must be put down by all legal means. The measures you take must be carefully considered. The struggle begun is against the enemies of society and not against society itself. Consequently, wholesale repression can not be approved of. Imprudent and illegal acts are likely to give rise to discontent instead of conducing calm and can not be tolerated. The intentions of the Emperor are immutable. The government firmly desires to assist in the amendment of the legal procedure and the laws hitherto enforced which no longer serve their purpose. The old regime will be regenerated, but order must be fully maintained. You must act on your own initative, as you are invested with responsibility. Firm and vigorous steps taken on these lines will doubtless be upheld by the best part of society."

The manifesto bears a remarkable similarity to the earlier compositions of Ministers of the Interior Plehve and Boulgin and the recationary press has had slight difficulty in cutting it down, as they already had done with yesterday's imperial manifesto, into an appeal to the "League of Russian men" and other old school Russians to rise and smite all the progressive classes.

Even before the declaration of the dissolution of the lower house of Parliament, the war office had perfected its plans for handling expected disorders, both military and civilian. General Muller Zakomelsky, who suppressed the Sebastopal revolt and cooperated with General Rennenkampf, in the reduction of the Siberian rebellion last winter, was recalled from the command of a corps and placed at the disposition of the war office, to be used wherever trouble may first be manifested. Both the government and the revolutionists expect this outbreak in the south, and that it will roll northward to the two capitals. This may induce the proletariat organizations to postpone the declaration of a general strike from St. Petersburg until contagion is borne up from the south. The railroaders, however, are anxious to have this strike declared at once. Members of the Railway Employes' Union with whom the Associated Press correspondents here and in Moscow have talked, declare that they were ready to walk out at the first call from the league with which the union is federated.

The constitutional Democratic club and two other political clubs were closed to-night by order of the police authorities. A caucus of constitutional Democrats was being held at the club named at the time. Prince Paul Dolgourokoff, chairman of the central executive committee appointed at Viborg on Monday, has called a meeting of that committee, which will arrange a secret caucus to-morrow to discuss further tactics.

Slaughter at Odessa.

London, July 24.—An Odessa dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company says: "Anti-Jewish outbreaks have commenced here. A number of persons have already been killed or wounded.

Cossacks and rowdies are plundering the deserted Jewish houses and shops. On Srednaia street three Jews were killed and three were wounded, in attempting to defend their property, while the police looked on.

The whole city is in a state of panic. Many of the inhabitants are fleeing. The Black Hundreds are distributing blood-thirsty proclamations in the streets. Two Jews were killed and eight were wounded in Stopovaia street here.

The feeling of alarm to-day is unabated. A feverish exodus abroad by rail and ship developed, owing to fears of sinister developments. Otherwise the city is outwardly quiet.

Governor General Kaulbars declares the troops of the garrison are held well in hand which, however, public opinion discredits.

Wholesale political arrests continue at Kieff and Pharmoff.

Killing Part of the Programme.

St. Petersburg, July 24.—It is said that the uprising at Odessa is but the first of a series of anti-Jewish outbreaks throughout the country, as the reactionary local authorities, who, up to the present time have been held in leash with the greatest difficulty, consider the dissolution of Parliament a reserve measure and the signal for the unloosing of the mob on the liberals and revolutionaries.

The peasant and workmen members of Parliament expect the revolutionary upheaval to first begin in the country. Revolutionary emissaries are scattering among the peasants and expect to induce them to rise almost in a body.

Czar Sentenced to Death.

St. Petersburg, July 24.—Proclamations announcing that the death sentence has been imposed on the Emperor, General Trepoff, M. Pobiedonostseff, who was procurator general of the Holy Synod; General Orloff, the "pacificator" of the Baltic provinces, and others, have been scattered over part of Peterhof. The terrororists are said to have succeeded in nailing copies of the same on the doors of Gen. Orloff's and General Trepoff's quarters.

THAW DIVORCE CRUEL CANARD

Wife of Slayer of Stanford White Denies That She Seeks Separation.

A MYSTERIOUS WITNESS

She Was Examined At District Attorney's Office and Sent Away Guarded by Police and Detective—Not Known.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, July 24.—Much speculation was caused at the District Attorney's office late this afternon by the appearance there of a new witness in the Thaw case, whose identity none of the officials concerned would make known. She was a woman about forty years of age. She came to the Criminal Court's building in company of H. L. Bergoff the detective whom Stanford White employed when he is said to have feared injury from Thaw. The detective and the woman went to the office of Assistant District Attorney Turnbull, where they were closeted for an hour, a stenographer being in attendance. A great deal of attention seemed to be paid to the woman, and her appearance so late in the day was taken to mean that she had something of importance to contribute to the District Attorney's case. When she went out she was escorted not only by Bergoff, who came with her, but by a policeman attached to the District Attorney's staff.

Mrs. William Thaw, Harry K. Thaw's mother, his sister, Mrs. George L. Carnegie, and his wife, Evelyn Thaw, paid another visit to the Tombs prison today. The three women were together some time before going to Tahw's cell. Thaw's wife was the first to visit him. In reply to a question whether she will be a witness at Thaw's trial she said: "You will have to ask Mr. Hartridge about that."

Mrs. Thaw was asked if it is true that she is seeking a divorce, to which she replied:

"That story is absurd. It is a cruel canard. There is absolutely nothing to it. That's all I have to say about it."
